FOR RELEASE _____ April 12, 2005 _____

Auditor of State David A. Vaudt today released an addendum to a report on a special investigation of certain grants administered by Dr. Jerry Willis, a former professor from the Department of Curriculum and Instruction of the College of Education at Iowa State University (ISU). The addendum was issued to clarify a statement in the report that Dymtro Smyrnov is Nina Semko's son and Dr. Willis' step-son. The addendum outlines the basis for the conclusion included in the report.

Because the payments to Mr. Smyrnov are not supported by timesheets or other supporting documentation, all payments to Mr. Smyrnov are unallowable expenses for the grant regardless of whether a family or other personal relationship existed.

A copy of the addendum and the report is available for review in the Office of Auditor of State and on the Auditor of State's website at <http://auditor.iowa.gov/specials/specials.htm>.

ISSUED APRIL 4, 2005

The family relationship between Dr. Willis and Mr. Smyrnov was identified as a result of the following information. During discussions with a staff member from the College of Education, the staff member stated Dr. Willis referred to Mr. Smyrnov as his adopted son. She also stated she confirmed that understanding with students associated with Dr. Willis. In addition, using the University's payroll system, we confirmed Mr. Smyrnov's home address was the same as Dr. Willis'. We also identified a bank account held jointly by Dr. Willis and Mr. Smyrnov at a local credit union.

Because the payments to Mr. Smyrnov were not supported by timesheets or other documentation describing the nature of services he performed, all payments to him are unallowable expenses for the grant regardless of whether a family or other personal relationship existed.

FOR RELEASE April 4, 2005

Auditor of State David A. Vaudt today released a report on a special investigation of certain grants administered by the Department of Curriculum and Instruction of the College of Education at Iowa State University (ISU). The report covers the period September 1, 1999 through November 30, 2003. The special investigation was requested by ISU officials as a result of concerns regarding certain grants and a contract administered by Dr. Jerry Willis, a former ISU professor. The grants and contract reviewed included (1) the Reform and Renewal in Teacher Education: Developing Collaboration between Iowa State University and Gogol State Pedagogical University (Ukraine) grant, (2) the Bilkent University (Turkey) Student Teacher Internship Program grant and (3) the Teachers Technology: Catalyst Project contract.

Vaudt reported the special investigation identified $141,305.17 of unallowable disbursements of grant and contract funds and undeposited conference proceeds. The disbursements were not in compliance with the terms of the grants or contract or University policies and included transportation, lodging and meal costs incurred by Dr. Willis and his wife while traveling domestically and internationally to locations not included in the grant agreements. The disbursements also included conference fees and related costs for events attended by exchange participants from the Ukraine and Turkey. Vaudt made recommendations to improve the internal controls surrounding disbursements made by the University.

ISU officials are consulting with the U.S. Department of State to determine the feasibility of reclassifying and rebudgeting a portion of the unallowable disbursements identified. For example, officials from the U.S. Department of State may determine certain conferences and their related costs identified in this report are allowable uses of grant funds even if not specifically identified in the original grant agreement.

Copies of the report have been filed with the Story County Attorney's Office, the Attorney General's Office and the Division of Criminal Investigation. In addition, we have filed a copy of the report with the U.S. Department of State – Office of Inspector General. A copy of the report is available for review in the Office of Auditor of State and on the Auditor of State's web site at <http://auditor.iowa.gov/specials/specials.htm>.

Auditor of State's Report

To Dr. Gregory Geoffroy, President of Iowa State University:

As a result of concerns identified by and at the request of Iowa State University of Science and Technology (ISU) officials, we conducted a special investigation of certain grants and a contract administered by Dr. Jerry Willis, a former professor in the Department of Curriculum and Instruction in the College of Education at ISU. The grants and contract reviewed included the:

- Reform and Renewal in Teacher Education: Developing Collaboration between Iowa State University and Gogol State Pedagogical University (Ukraine) grant,
- Bilkent University (Turkey) Student Teacher Internship Program grant, and
- Teachers Technology: Catalyst Project contract.

We have applied certain tests and procedures to selected financial transactions for the grants and contract for the period September 1, 1999 through November 30, 2003. Based on discussions with ISU officials and personnel and a review of relevant information, we performed the following procedures:

- (1) Evaluated internal controls surrounding expenditures and the collection of registration fees to determine whether adequate policies and procedures were in place and operating effectively. We specifically reviewed controls established by ISU and the Department for grant activity.
- (2) Reviewed the procedures performed by the ISU Internal Audit Department during its review of the grants and contract.
- (3) Reviewed and obtained an understanding of requirements established by the agreements with the granting agencies for each grant and contract.
- (4) Identified and reviewed documentation available for expenditures from and receipts related to the grants and contract. The documentation included claims, receipts and invoices. It also included registration forms and on-line registration information for a conference held in Kiev, Ukraine in accordance with the terms of the Ukraine grant.
- (5) Obtained and reviewed attendance, receipt and expense information for the conference held in Kiev.
- (6) Obtained and reviewed Pay Pal account information and personal bank statements and other bank documents for Dr. Jerry Willis.

These procedures identified $141,305.17 of unallowable disbursements and undeposited conference proceeds. The disbursements were not in compliance with the terms of the grants or contract or University policies. ISU officials are consulting with the U.S. Department of State to determine the feasibility of reclassifying and rebudgeting a portion of the unallowable disbursements identified. For example, officials from the U.S. Department of State may determine certain conferences and their related costs are allowable uses of grant funds even if not specifically identified in the original grant agreement.

Several internal control weaknesses were also identified. Our detailed findings and recommendations are presented in the Investigative Summary and Exhibits A to F of this report.

The procedures described above do not constitute an audit of financial statements conducted in accordance with U.S. generally accepted auditing standards. Had we performed additional procedures, or had we performed an audit of financial statements of the Curriculum and Instruction Department of Iowa State University, other matters might have come to our attention that would have been reported to you.

Copies of this report have been filed with the Story County Attorney's Office, the Division of Criminal Investigation, the Attorney General's Office and the U.S. Department of State – Office of Inspector General.

We would like to acknowledge the assistance and many courtesies extended to us by the officials and personnel of Iowa State University of Science and Technology during the course of our investigation.

Iowa State University
Department of Curriculum and Instruction
Investigative Summary

Background Information

Dr. Jerry Willis was hired by Iowa State University of Science and Technology (ISU) in August 1997 and left in July 2003 for a position with Louisiana State University. He left amid concerns identified by ISU's Internal Audit Department regarding his administration of certain grants. Dr. Willis was a professor in the Department of Curriculum and Instruction and acted as co-director of the Center for Technology in Learning and Teaching (CTLT) from July 1999 through June 2001. The CTLT is a part of the Department of Curriculum and Instruction, one of four departments within the College of Education. According to the College of Education's website, the CTLT's goal is "to help educators provide students with technology-enriched learning environments that enhance education at all levels." The website also states the center is "preparing innovative, technology-using teachers and collaborating with teachers in the field to construct, evaluate, and disseminate student-centered learning environments." The center includes six computer labs, media production facilities, a model student-centered classroom with distance education capabilities and research equipment for faculty and graduate students.

Dr. Willis was the principal investigator (PI) for several grants. A PI is responsible for ensuring compliance with the requirements specified in the grant agreement and budget, maintaining accurate records and complying with federal and University guidelines. In addition, the PI is responsible for fulfilling all reporting requirements.

In February 2003, the Assistant Director of ISU's Purchasing Department contacted the Internal Audit Director regarding concerns about purchases made with a University procurement card issued to Dr. Willis. While performing a routine review of procurement card activity, she identified purchases of computer components made over the Internet and delivered to Dr. Willis' home address. The purchases had been charged to a grant for which Dr. Willis was the PI.

Internal auditors reviewed expenditures made from the grant by Dr. Willis and identified other questionable purchases made with his procurement card and travel expenditures. Internal auditors and other ISU officials also began reviewing expenditures from other grants and a contract for which Dr. Willis had been the PI.

After identifying additional concerns, ISU's Controller notified the Office of Auditor of State of the review being performed by Internal Audit staff and subsequently contacted the Office of Auditor of State to request an investigation. As a result of that request, we performed the procedures detailed in the Auditor of State's Report for the period September 1, 1999 through November 30, 2003.

Between September 1, 1999 and November 30, 2003, Dr. Willis was the PI for two grants and a contract. Each of the three projects is briefly described in the following paragraphs. Nina Semko also participated in the three projects in various capacities. Dr. Willis is married to Ms. Semko.

Reform and Renewal in Teacher Education: Developing Collaboration Between Iowa State University and Gogol State Pedagogical University (the Ukraine grant) – This grant was established to support a partnership between ISU and Gogol State Pedagogical University (GSPU), located in Nizhyn, Ukraine. The purpose of the grant was to facilitate teacher education reform at GSPU with an emphasis on instructional technology. The primary activity of the grant was an exchange of faculty between ISU and GSPU, while focusing on teacher education and technology. The grant also provided for the purchase of educational materials for GSPU, establishing an Internet connection at GSPU and purchasing computers and books for GSPU faculty.

In addition, the grant included provisions for international conferences jointly sponsored by GSPU and ISU. In the grant, it was stated exchange participants were expected to share their experiences informally with colleagues, but the need for additional opportunities for sharing with a wider audience was recognized. Therefore, a conference, Innovations in Higher Learning, was proposed to be held once every two years with the first conference to be held in Kiev in the second year of the project. Invitations to attend and present were to be sent to all higher education institutions in the Ukraine and nearby countries with a special emphasis on teacher education faculty. American teacher-education faculty and faculty from other Western European countries were also invited to participate in the conference.

ISU responded to a Request for Proposal (RFP) notification issued by the U.S. Department of State (DOS), Bureau of Educational & Cultural Affairs, for the grant. Dr. Willis submitted a proposal dated January 12, 2000 for the grant. DOS notified ISU in a letter dated August 7, 2000 that a $299,597 grant had been awarded. ISU signed the grant agreement on August 15, 2000, agreeing to fulfill the requirements of the grant and abide by federal and University policies and procedures. The three-year grant was effective from August 15, 2000 through August 31, 2003. Dr. Willis was the PI for the grant. The grant also included cost-share provisions of $216,200 and $45,540 to be provided by ISU and GSPU, respectively.

Bilkent University Student Teacher Internship Program (the Bilkent grant) – This grant was established to provide opportunities to graduate student teachers from Bilkent University in Ankara, Turkey to participate in an eight-week internship program focusing on student-centered teaching and technology in the classroom. Participants were placed in small groups at high schools in the vicinity of ISU. Twenty-four students from Bilkent University participated during the initial year of the program. Twenty-six students participated the second year. A large portion of the grant funds were used for expenses associated with the students' travel from Turkey to Ames, their living expenses and per diem costs while in Ames and various cultural activities attended while in the United States.

After responding to an RFP notification issued by DOS, ISU was awarded the grant and signed an agreement to fulfill the grant requirements. The initial grant awarded to ISU was for $169,955 and was effective from March 28, 2001 through June 30, 2002. ISU subsequently was awarded a second grant from DOS for the Bilkent University Student Teacher Internship Program. It was awarded for the period July 1, 2002 through June 30, 2003 and was for $176,999. The grants also included cost share provisions of $30,499 and $30,561 to be provided by ISU for each year, respectively. Dr. Willis was the PI for each of the grants.

Teachers Technology: Catalyst Project – This project was established by a cost reimbursement contract between the University of Virginia and ISU signed in June 2000 for $120,900. Terms of the original agreement were effective from September 1, 1999 through August 31, 2001 and included a cost-share provision for $97,918 to be provided by ISU. The terms were later extended to November 30, 2003 and an additional $22,000 was awarded, for a total of $142,900. Dr. Willis was the PI for the project.

According to correspondence to ISU from the University of Virginia, funding for the project originated from the U.S. Department of Education. In the Catalyst Project proposal submitted to the Department of Education by the University of Virginia, the following commitments were made:

1. Identify and designate at least two content area teacher educators (e.g. mathematics, science, social studies, English) to serve as sub-contract, collaborating network fellows. These network fellows will come to project meetings at the University of Virginia, at least once a year, to share and discuss methods and materials for integrating technology into teacher preparation,

2. Develop and/or field-test, in methods courses, project materials using existing or planned digital resource centers, and
3. Plan and conduct workshops for local teachers and/or teacher educator staff and faculty.

The subcontract between the University of Virginia and ISU was established to implement those commitments. Matching support by ISU was to include commitment of resources to provide a combination of academic year release time, summer stipends and travel to project meetings and professional conferences.

The specific services to be provided by ISU for the subcontract were specified in a “scope of work” statement attached to the subcontract document. The statements listed:

1. Jerry Willis and a graduate student will work on the creation of the new journal, Current Issues in Technology and Teacher Education, develop editorial policies and practices, work with editors of the various sections of the journal, and solicit, edit and review manuscripts. They will also work with faculty and staff at the University of Virginia and at AACE (Association for the Advancement of Computing in Education) to develop and launch the journal.
2. The other graduate student along with faculty at ISU will work on the development and deployment of digital resources for use in both K-12 and teacher education.
3. ISU faculty will participate in collaborative videoconferences with grant partners at Virginia and elsewhere.
4. ISU will also field test materials developed at Virginia with local schools.
5. ISU will develop content-based digital resources in science and field test both those materials developed at Virginia in the pre-service teacher education program.

Funding for Grants and Contract – Table 1 summarizes the funding ISU was awarded for the Ukraine and Bilkent grants and the Catalyst Project contract.

Grant Contract	Funding Source			Total
	U.S. Department of State	ISU	Gogol State Pedagogical University

There are no specific federal laws or regulations governing these grants or the contract. However, each grant and the contract are required to comply with terms of the applicable agreement. In addition, requirements found in OMB Circular A-110 (Uniform Administrative Requirements for Grants and Agreements with Institutions of Higher Education, Hospitals, and Other Non-Profit Organizations) are applicable to each of the grants and the contract. Subpart C (.27) of Circular A-110 specifies the “allowability of costs incurred by institutions of higher education is determined in accordance with the provisions of OMB Circular A-21, Cost Principles for Educational Institutions.” OMB Circular A-21 (section C-3d) states that, to be allowable, costs must be “consistent with established institutional policies and practices applicable to the work of the institution generally.”

As part of our investigation, we determined if each disbursement reviewed was allowed by the terms of the grant or contract and was in accordance with policies established by ISU.

Detailed Findings

As summarized in Exhibit A, the procedures identified $141,305.17 of unallowable disbursements and undeposited conference proceeds. The disbursements were not in compliance with the terms of the grants or contract or University policies. ISU officials are consulting with the U.S. Department of State to determine the feasibility of reclassifying and rebudgeting a portion of the unallowable disbursements identified. For example, officials from the U.S. Department of State may determine certain conferences and their related costs are allowable uses of grant funds even if not specifically identified in the original grant agreement.

As part of our investigation, we determined if each disbursement reviewed was allowed by the terms of the grant or contract and was in accordance with policies established by the University. Specific recommendations are found in the “Recommended Control Procedures” section of this report.

- 1) Ukraine Grant – As previously stated, the Ukraine grant was to facilitate teacher education reform at GSPU with an emphasis on instructional technology. The primary activity of the grant was an exchange of faculty between ISU and GSPU, while focusing on teacher education and technology. The grant also provided for the purchase of educational materials for GSPU, establishing an Internet connection at GSPU, purchasing computers and books for GSPU faculty and an international conference jointly sponsored by GSPU and ISU.

Disbursements - We reviewed disbursements made with funds from the Ukraine grant to determine compliance with the grant agreement or ISU policies and procedures. We identified $83,642.76 of disbursements that were not in compliance with terms of the grant agreement, not properly supported by documentation, were duplicate payments or were not in compliance with ISU policies and procedures. The disbursements are summarized in Table 2 and detailed in Exhibit B.

* Not in compliance with grant terms or not provided for in the grant.

As illustrated by Table 2, $67,239.42 of the disbursements did not comply with the grant agreement. Of this amount, $41,537.06 related to transportation, lodging and meal costs incurred while traveling domestically and internationally. Some of the meal costs were incurred locally in Ames. While the grant agreement provided for certain travel costs associated with faculty members participating in an exchange program, it did not provide for travel within the United States or travel to countries other than the Ukraine. Expenses were charged to the grant for trips taken by Dr. Willis, Ms. Semko and the visiting Ukrainian participants to Albuquerque, Nashville, Washington D.C. and New York. In addition, expenses were charged to the grant for trips taken by Dr. Willis and Ms. Semko to London and Istanbul. Specific charges incurred are listed in Exhibit B.

An additional $9,699.83 of disbursements were not supported by any documentation or were supported by documentation that was not adequate to determine the nature of the purchase. For example, $850 was reimbursed to GSPU for stipends. However, there was no documentation supporting the payment. In addition, several payments were made for books, but the receipts submitted did not include the titles of the books purchased.

Of the $5,211.31 of duplicate payments identified, $4,577.35 was for the cost of meals purchased for the Ukrainian participants. Each participant was provided a per diem stipend for food for the period of their visit. Additional meal costs should not have been incurred for any of the participants. Some of the costs charged to the grant were payments directly to restaurants or grocery stores and others were reimbursements to Dr. Willis for payments he made for meals.

The $1,489.76 of salaries and benefits identified that were not in compliance with University policy are payments made to Dymtro Smyrnov, Ms. Semko's son and Dr. Willis' step-son. ISU has established a policy that prohibits anyone in a supervisory position from employing a person to whom he or she is related. The policy specifically includes spouses and step-children. Because ISU's nepotism policy was not followed, the payments made to Mr. Smyrnov are not allowable expenses for the grant. We were not able to determine the nature of the services performed by Mr. Smyrnov.

As stated previously, Dr. Willis was married to Ms. Semko during the grant period and Ms. Semko acted in various capacities for grants administered by Dr. Willis. ISU's nepotism policy applies to circumstances in which persons in a supervisor – supervisee relationship subsequently become related by virtue of marriage. Therefore, the nepotism policy was not complied with. The salary and benefits of $1,088.10 provided to Ms. Semko for work performed for the Ukraine grant has already been included in Exhibit B as inadequately supported due to a lack of sufficient documentation.

Also included in the $83,642.76 of disbursements summarized in Table 2 are payments for which we had additional concerns. For some of the disbursements included in the $10,277.18 of lodging, the supporting documents were unusual in nature and appear to contain some irregularities. The disbursements are described in the following paragraphs.

- Dr. Willis claimed $138.65 for lodging in London for November 19 and 20, 2001 on a travel voucher filed on November 6, 2002. However, reimbursement was not made because sufficient receipts were not provided. A copy of Dr. Willis' credit card statement was attached to the voucher showing a $138.65 charge at South Central LTD in London, GBR on November 21, 2001; however, the charge was reversed on November 22. Dr. Willis was reimbursed $100.00 for lodging on November 19 and 20, 2001 after the invoice from "A Night Inn" was submitted.

Dr. Willis also claimed the $138.65 of lodging expenses incurred for November 19 and 20, 2001 on a travel voucher dated in March 2002. This travel voucher was also supported by a copy of Dr. Willis' Capitol One credit card statement. The statement submitted included the same charges and credits for South Central Ltd, London, GBR as those included on the November 6, 2002 travel voucher. The travel voucher was applied against an advance issued to Dr. Willis.

Dr. Willis also was reimbursed for lodging expenses incurred at "A Night Inn" on January 5 and 6, 2002, January 18 through 22, 2002, November 14 through 16, 2002 and November 30, 2002. The five invoices from "A Night Inn" submitted by Dr. Willis for lodging appear unusual. For instance, the dates shown on the invoices are not in European format as is typical for invoices from London. The invoices, although collectively spread over more than a one-year period, show Dr. Willis stayed in the same room each time he lodged at “A Night Inn.” Each of the five invoices shows errors on the second line of room information and in the “Room Number” and “Rate” column headings. While three of the invoices included more than two nights’ lodging, only one invoice included an error on the third line of room information. Only two of invoices included the “£” symbol and the words “Total Paid.” In addition, two of the invoices included a “rate per room” on a line for which there was not a date. The rate was not included in the total on the invoice.

We were not able to observe the actual invoices submitted by Dr. Willis because they were disposed of once they were scanned into an electronic format. Copies of the invoices obtained from ISU’s electronic imaging system have been included in Appendix 1. The notations made on the invoices were made by ISU Internal Audit staff.

Because the Ukraine grant did not provide for travel to London, all reimbursements made to Dr. Willis for costs incurred in London have been included in Exhibit B.

- Three claims were submitted for lodging expenses incurred for hotel rooms in Morton, Illinois. Each claim was for $61.19. According to the invoices from the hotel, guests occupying three rooms arrived on March 23, 2002 and departed on March 24, 2002. Each room was in Dr. Willis’ name. One claim submitted for payment stated the room was related to the trip to Nashville and was for 4 Ukrainian grant participants. The second claim stated the room was for 1 Ukrainian grant participant and the third claim stated the room was for 2 participants. However, only 4 Ukrainian grant participants made the trip to Nashville with Dr. Willis and Ms. Semko. It is likely each of two rooms was for 2 participants from the Ukraine and the third room was for Dr. Willis and Ms. Semko. It is unclear why the documentation would have identified costs for 7 Ukrainian participants.

Because the Ukraine grant did not provide for travel within the United States, all costs associated with the trip to Nashville have been included in Exhibit B.

- A claim was submitted for lodging expense in the Ukraine; however, the vendor name is Turkish and means “Satek Questionnaire Services.” In addition, a second claim was submitted for lodging expense in the Ukraine; however, the vendor name is Turkish and means “Satek Tourism.”

Actual Costs Exceed Budget Limitations - The grant agreement included a project budget which specified limitations for certain budget categories. The grant agreement provided for cumulative adjustments not to exceed 10% of the total budget without prior written approval from DOS. As shown in Exhibit C, conference expenditures exceeded the budget amount (including the 10% adjustment) by $1,213.85.

In addition, the budget included other overall percentage requirements. The cost of educational materials purchased exceeded the 25% limitation of total funds established by the grant agreement. Also, administrative expenses exceeded the 20% limitation of total funds.

The expenditures that exceeded the budgeted amounts result in additional questioned costs of $10,524.05. This amount has been summarized in Table 3 and included in Exhibit A.

Description	Budget Overage
Conference	$1,213.85
Educational materials	2,072.52
Administrative expenses	7,237.68
Total	$10,524.05

Program Income - The grant included a conference to be held jointly by ISU and GSPU. While the grant's budget includes $15,000 of expenditures for the conference, neither the budget or grant agreement specified any income to be generated by the conference.

A conference was held in May, 2003 in Kiev, Ukraine. A registration fee was required to attend the conference and fees were collected for tours available to conference registrants and their traveling companions. The tours were arranged for various sites in Kiev. According to the website established for the conference, payments for the registration and tour fees could be charged to a Pay Pal account, paid by check sent to Dr. Willis' home address or at the conference.

We confirmed with Pay Pal all deposits made to an on-line account established by Dr. Willis and determined some of the proceeds were subsequently transferred from the on-line account to an account in Dr. Willis' name at the Greater Iowa Credit Union in Ames. Using a subpoena, we determined Dr. Willis had established two accounts at the Credit Union related to the conference. None of the accounts to which registrations and fees were deposited were authorized by ISU officials or the grantor.

Dr. Willis deposited the checks he received in one of the accounts he established at the credit union. In addition, one check was deposited in his personal account at the credit union.

As illustrated in Exhibit D, we determined $27,738.72 had been collected for conference registrations. Of that amount, $5,054.60 was deposited with ISU and $22,682.01 was disbursed, leaving $2.11 of collections not yet spent. Because most of the disbursements made from the collections are unsupported, they are not allowable expenditures of grant funds. The $22,620.28 of unallowable disbursements has been included in Exhibit A. Because no supporting documentation was available, we were unable to include a detailed schedule of the disbursements. In addition, the $2.11 of unspent collections has also been included in Exhibit A because the funds have not been deposited with ISU.

To determine the amount of conference registration fees collected, we reviewed receipts issued by ISU staff at the conference and deposits made to the Pay Pal and credit union accounts. We also confirmed payments with registrants when possible. We reviewed the registration forms that were available and attempted to match each registrant to their registration payment. While we were able to match the registration forms to a specific registration payment for a number of registrants, we were not able to match all registration forms to a payment. For the registration forms available, we identified $4,473.85 of fees that appear to have been paid that we could not match to a payment. We also identified $2,878.85 of payments collected that we were unable to match to a registration form. Because some or all of the $2,878.85 collected may offset some of the $4,473.85 we could not match to a payment, there is at least $1,595.00 of registration fees collected that were not included in any deposits, so we have included the net amount in Exhibit A. We are unable to determine if additional fees were collected because not all registration forms were available.

2) Bilkent Grants – As previously stated, these grants were established to provide opportunities to graduate student teachers from Bilkent University in Ankara, Turkey to participate in an eight-week internship program focusing on student-centered teaching and technology in the classroom. Twenty-four students from Turkey were placed in small groups at high schools near ISU during the first year of the program. Twenty-six students participated the second year.

Disbursements - We reviewed disbursements made with funds from the Bilkent grants to determine compliance with the grant agreements and ISU policies and procedures. We identified $19,931.30 of disbursements that did not comply with the grant agreements, were not properly supported by documentation or were duplicate payments. The disbursements are summarized in Table 4 and detailed in Exhibit E.

* Not in compliance with grant terms or not provided for in the grant.

As illustrated by Table 4, $14,270.63 of the disbursements were for items not included in either the Bilkent grant agreements or did not comply with the time frames or other requirements established by the grant agreements. Of this amount, $8,666.80 related to transportation and meal costs incurred while traveling domestically or internationally. Some of the meal costs were incurred locally in Ames. The travel costs also included hotel and meal costs reimbursed to Dr. Willis in March 2002 for travel abroad, including London, Paris and the Ukraine. Travel costs to these destinations were not included in the Bilkent grant agreements. In addition, costs incurred for Dr. Willis, Ms. Semko and an ISU graduate student to travel to Turkey were paid from the Bilkent grants. Travel to Turkey was not included in the grant budgets.

The $14,270.63 also includes two $1,200 honorariums paid to two Turkish students for work performed in Turkey. However, the work was performed before the grant period began and work in Turkey was not in the grant budget.

Of the $1,573.83 of duplicate costs identified, over $1,000 was for the cost of meals purchased for the visiting Bilkent students. Each participant was provided a per diem stipend of $25 per day for food for the period of their visit. Each participant also received an additional per diem of $15 per day for days they traveled within the United States. Additional meal costs should not have been incurred for any of the participants. Some of the costs charged to the grant were payments directly to restaurants or grocery stores and others were reimbursements to Dr. Willis for payments he made.

Also included in the $19,931.30 is $404.68 for the purchases of books. The purchases supported by adequate documentation included textbooks or reference-type books related to various teaching techniques. Each visiting Turkish student received a book allowance. The grant budget did not provide for any additional books.

Actual Costs Exceed Budget Limitations – The grant agreements included a project budget which specified limitations for certain budget categories. The grant agreements provided for cumulative adjustments not to exceed 10% of the total budget. The grants also allowed ISU to transfer budgeted costs between non-administrative expense categories. However, the grants did not allow modification of the budget between non-administrative and administrative expenses.

The actual expenditures incurred were within the amount budgeted for all categories during the first year of the grant except administrative expenditures. Administrative expenditures exceeded the budgeted amount by $575.57. This amount has been included in Exhibit A. The actual expenditures incurred were within the amount budgeted for all categories during the second year of the grant. Table 5 compares total disbursements to the amounts budgeted for the grants.

3) Teachers Technology: Catalyst Project – As stated previously, this project was a contract between the University of Virginia and ISU. The specific services to be provided by ISU included:

- creation of the new journal, Current Issues in Technology and Teacher Education, development of editorial policies and practices, work with editors of the various sections of the journal, and solicitation, edit and review of manuscripts.
- development and deployment of digital resources for use in both K-12 and teacher education.
- collaborative videoconferences with grant partners at Virginia and elsewhere.
- field test materials developed at Virginia with local schools.
- develop content-based digital resources in science and field test both those materials developed at Virginia in the pre-service teacher education program.

Disbursements - We reviewed disbursements made with funds from the contract to determine compliance with the terms of the agreement and ISU policies and procedures. We identified $2,414.10 of disbursements that did not comply with the agreement or were not properly supported by documentation. The disbursements are summarized in Table 6 and detailed in Exhibit F.

Disbursement Category	Terms of Contract*	No supporting documentation	Inadequate supporting documentation	Total

Equipment, Supplies and Computer Software	94.46	-	-	94.46
Total	$ 1,665.80	703.94	44.36	2,414.10

* Not in compliance with contract terms or not provided for in the contract.

As illustrated by Table 5, funds from the contract were used for domestic travel. Dr. Willis was reimbursed for three nights lodging, a rental car and miscellaneous expenses incurred in Orlando, Florida. The contract did not include travel to Florida.

Contract funds were also used for a tuition scholarship. Student tuition is not included in the contract. In addition, we were unable to determine what $748.30 of the contract funds were used for because supporting documentation was inadequate or was not available.

Recommended Control Procedures

As part of our investigation, we reviewed the procedures used by Iowa State University to process disbursements and various fees received. An important aspect of internal control is to establish procedures that provide accountability for assets susceptible to loss from error and irregularities. These procedures provide that the actions of one individual will act as a check on those of another and provide a level of assurance that errors or irregularities will be noted within a reasonable time during the course of normal operations. Based on our findings and observations detailed below, the following recommendations are made to strengthen Iowa State University's internal controls.

- A. Questioned Costs – Certain expenditures were determined to be unallowable because they did not comply with the grant or contract agreement or ISU policies and procedures. The supporting documents for the disbursements were not available or were not reviewed in sufficient detail to identify the noncompliance.

Recommendation – The University should strengthen policies and procedures for review of expenditures to ensure they are in compliance with contract or grant agreements and University policies and procedures. During the review process, supporting documentation should be examined closely to ensure adequacy.

- B. Actual Costs Exceed Budget Limitations – Certain limitations of grant/contract budgets were exceeded. Expenditures were not monitored in the detail necessary to prevent the budget limitations from being exceeded.

Recommendation – The University should implement procedures to ensure expenditures are monitored in a manner that prevents budget limitations from being exceeded and ensures all allowable expenditures are properly recorded to the grant.

- C. Program Income – The PI of the Ukraine grant established unauthorized credit union accounts and a Pay Pal account to collect registration fees for a conference sponsored as part of the grant. Disbursements were made from the unauthorized accounts. As a result, there was no oversight of the disbursements. In addition, we are unable to determine if all registration fees collected were properly deposited and the propriety of the disbursements from the unauthorized accounts.

Recommendation – The University should clarify policies requiring all financial institution accounts (traditional and internet-based) be authorized. PIs should have a clear understanding regarding the allowable accounts used to administer their grants.

* - Not in compliance with federal regulation "Fly America Act" requiring use of United States carrier.

^ - GSPU was to pay meal per diems and lodging for time spent in Nizhyn, Ukraine.

- Participants received a per diem. Meals and groceries should not be paid for as well.

 - Dr. Willis' step-son and Nina Semko's son.

^^ - Grant did not include domestic travel. Trips were taken to Nashville, Washington D.C., New York and Albuquerque.

- Only international travel included in grant budget was for faculty exchanges.

~~ - Explanation does not appear reasonable. Four Ukranian participants attended the conference along with

Dr. Willis and Ms. Semko. Rooms were claimed for 7 Ukrainian participants and none for Dr. Willis and Ms. Semko.

@ - The claim states expense is for lodging; however, the vendor name is Turkish and means "Satek Questionnaire Services".

@@ - The claim states expense is for lodging; however, the vendor name is Turkish and means "Satek Tourism".
